

Challenge #1: Goal

Creating a portfolio in HTML is an excellent way to showcase your skills and projects, and grow your online presence. My goal in making this portfolio is I want my portfolio to be simple as what my skills can do. In home section, I want my home to have my full name and a simple greetings from me. When u scroll down that's where the schools that I came from and where I am currently studying section. And the last part is About me section, This section gives a short summary about myself. Include where I was born, where I was raised, my personality and my hobbies. I plan to put a home and about responsive top navigation and an animated image.
